Zesty Grape Seed Oil

The virtues of grape seed for its powerful antioxidant properties are well documented. Now a primary medical compound called Procyranidolic Oligomers (PCOs) has been identified that scientists believe attributes to high levels of antioxidants. These compounds seem to stop free radicals and help them pass quickly out of the body. Some studies have shown that PCOs kill cancer cells, while protecting the healthy cells. The PCOs in grape seed seem to aid the vascular system by binding to and thereby strengthening collagen, which is found in the lining of veins, arteries, and capillary walls as well as the skin. Now from A Natural Difference Zesty Grape Seed Massage Oil is available in 250mls for professional use only.

Magnesium Chloride for better skin and better health

The effects of stress and 'burn out' cause skin problems, premature ageing, hormone imbalance, low metabolism and even serious diseases. Nervous exhaustion arises in all cases of magnesium deficiency. As the body consumes more magnesium under stress and our food supply is now magnesium deficient, it's nearly impossible to get enough with diet alone. Magnesium chloride is the most bio-available form of magnesium and is safely absorbed transdermally. It is also highly beneficial for several skin conditions such as acne, psoriasis, eczema and ageing skin. Elektra Magnesium Mineral Bath Flakes can be used as an effective detox foot soak, body scrub or spray as well as a mouthwash and for compresses on the skin. Due to its transdermal capabilities you can apply it on the skin on one side of the body and it can benefit other areas. Photos are available from the company to support these results. Elektra Magnesium Mineral Bath Flakes are available in 500grs or in larger quantities for a more economical option.
